"Check us out! So much more fun than the waltz..."

Perfect wedding hot trend...

If the idea of your first dance is filling you with fear, (and believe us, from the letters we get here at Perfect Wedding you're not alone!) then look at ways to do things your own way! One option is to forget the traditional slow dance and book a dance teacher to teach you something cheesy but fun that will get your guests talking but won't mean you have to be step-perfect. Also, several couples we've spoken to recently have asked their bridesmaids and groomsmen to join in the fun by taking to the floor with them to perform a routine — then you won't feel like all eyes are turned on you and you alone!

A GREAT READ...

We couldn't put down our copy of new book Wedding Babylon by Imogen Edwards-Jones. Based on true but anonymous stories, it gives a humorous glimpse into the wedding industry. You won't want to put it down!

Packed full of wedding gossip!

Congratulations!

...to lucky couple Kirsty Warboys and Grant Cousins, who were the winners of our May issue Caribbean wedding competition with Pierre Carr Exclusive Tropical Weddings. "Winning this competition is a dream come true, we really wanted to get married abroad!" said Grant. To plan your own destination wedding, visit pierrecarr.com.

Kirsty and Grant celebrate their win!
