2. BOXER SHORTS

SS20, is all about wearing shorts that look like silky smooth boxer shorts. The best can be found in shirting fabrics (matched with button placket vests). A high-summer, weekend-only trend.

4. CARGO TROUSERS

Part of a wider utilitarian trend, men's cargo pants are clearly back. Whether with drawstring ties for a more cinched waist or loosely flowing with larger-than-life pockets, the cargo is the SS20 trousers of choice.

6. SHEER

Sheer jackets, sheer coats and sheer shirts, it's all about going see-through. From meshy trench coats to filmy tracksuits and all-but-invisible rock star-ready T-shirts.

8. GET A VEST

Once maligned as the least fashionable item of clothing the vest has finally transformed into a fully viable wardrobe option for 2020. Choose from vests in shirting fabrics, knitted, mesh vests and of course the silk vest.

10. BIKER JACKETS

A sharp-shouldered, black leather biker jacket is the ultimate mark of a rebellious and on-point wardrobe. Part sexy, part dangerous, the best biker jackets for Spring/Summer 2020 could be found studded and rhinestone encrusted.

1. SATIN

The menswear contingent have given the fabric a fresh new lease of life in the form of macs, regal frock coats, sleek shirts, harem pants and satin-y cropped jackets.

3. SANDALS

For SS20 your sandals should be chunkier (and more remedial looking) than ever. Wear with socks if you're brave or without if you, aren't.

5. BOWLING SHIRTS

Silky, boxy and complete with spread camp collars, this season's billowing, short-sleeved bowling shirts were the order of London's runways.

7. GET PREPPY

The return of preppy dressing has been on the cards for some time now, but for Spring/Summer 2020 the trend reaches full tilt. From the return of boat shoes and penny loafers to the proliferation of varsity blazers and rugby shirts.

9. PIN STRIPES

Once favoured by bankers and businessmen, for SS20 the fabric feels contemporary and chic. So if you're planning on wearing pinstripe avoid straightforward suits and opt instead for pinstripe shirts worn with mismatched pinstripe track pants-come-suit trousers.
